BLAINE AT ALBANY.

Twenty Thousand People Listen to the Maine Statesman.

An Assertion of Free Trade Orators of the Campaign

Refuted by a Free Trade English Newspaper

The American People not Suffering from High Prices.

Albany Aroused by Blaine

ALBANY, October 27.—Since the Hancock and Tyler campaign in the old Knickerbocker town for the surrounding country has known such a demonstration as that to-day. Seven special trains of the republicans of Albany and Troy, great enthusiasm greeted Mr. Blaine and his party as they drove upon the ground. A force of estimated at 20,000 people were gathered. Blaine in much voice. He was not at his best physically, spoke clearly and strong and that he was heard was evident by the frequent demonstrations. He said in part:

It is almost too late for argument but I wish to give you one and to give it in very suggestive mode not from my self but from another, not from an American but from an Englishman. I hold in my hand a clipping from a recent issue of the London Morning Post, a well known and prominent organ in England, the organ of the late Lord Palmerston and in politics advocating as do English papers to, the doctrine of free trade. The Post is being a little puffed with some arguments of free traders. It does not believe in all that is said against the doctrine of protection and I am sure I can instruct no more pleasantly than to read from my friend from Brooklyn Mr. Tenny to read from an editorial which shall hand to him from the Morning Post.

The item was read as follows: "But for the servile occupations entailed upon our working classes who have every day more and more invaded from foreign competition, it would be decidedly amusing to see how completely every one of the principles assumed by the so-called free trade school of this country is negatived by the facts and transactions of commonplace business men. We are constantly told that protection raises the prices of commodities that a looking as John Bright said but a few days back in a published letter to one of his constituents is only a tax which the consumer unity pays to support a particular industry benefited by it. As a matter of fact what do we find in America? By their manufacturers actually beat us out of the field. On the score of cheapness not only, so far from protection enhancing the cost of their goods they can turn them out at rates with which we with all our free trade can't compete. Yale lock makers can pay the carriage of the goods England and yet undersell the lock trade. Just as Belgium can manufacture for angle iron delivered than local iron masters of Middlesbrough. Cheap workers can [illegible] and ship all the way to Zealand for 600 pounds less than England. In Russia the agricultural is said to be passing into the hands of America in spite of English and German competitors though the latter are 3,000 miles to the local market. Even Germany, one because labor is highly skilled not because the duty on the manufactured is heavy, there is not a single manufactured article produced in the United States from forgot to cotton from locomotive engines to steel nails from agricultural implements to cutlery and yankee notions as many little domestic appliances are called, which is not as cheap or even cheaper there than in this country."

Mr. Tenny having finished the reading Mr. Blaine resumed. That is a most official contradiction to the story which free trade orators have been telling us during the whole campaign that the people of the United States are ground down by high prices. It is not so and last we got an English witness to all over and I say here that there is not an article in the United States to-day that is not far cheaper than it was when protection was applied to it. The argument that is now closing between protection and free trade is an argument which I took pleasure in saying in the first speech I made in the campaign is not a question of labor or of capital for the rich man it is one for the wage earner, and if it is lost it is lost to the cause of every man in the United States who earns his bread by the sweat of his face. [Applause.]

We are not going to have the British minister in Washington tell us how to vote. You are reading a good deal in democratic papers just now as to Lord Sackville being recalled. The Cleveland administration want to show their ending any of his intervention. It will only make the worst to recall him. What they are doing is trying to get the English minister in London to recall him.

Referring to the statement made by Congressman Collins to the effect that the first letter had been made public by me at the Madison Square meeting the speaker said the letter had been published four days and Lord Sackville had confirmed and Mr. Bayard since then criticised it by saying it was a private affair and none of his business. I referred to it in a public meeting and Mr. Collins says it was the most remarkable conspicuous in modern times. [Applause.] Trying to get it off their shoulders [illegible] intervention of a British minister will never will. No advocate of protection in this country ever had the scruples of a British minister and never will. If England would resent to the last [illegible] any intervention in her domestic affairs as an American minister should resent the least intervention in matters of foreign affairs by the British minister. And if the [illegible] they can resent it as they can today in a very [illegible] They can resent it by defeating Benjamin Harrison for president and sent it by voting for protection to American manufactures. They can by restoring to power the policy whose existence the prosperity of the United States for twenty years identified, the republican party in peace and war has held the honor of the country under the democratic attempts to [illegible]

Get registered to-day, as any registration [illegible] will have no effect at the election next Tuesday.

Police Justice [illegible] is the administrator of the estate of Thomas Pope, and he took out letters of administration in the county court yesterday.

A couple of young men engaged in a set-to on the corner of Tejon and Huerfano streets yesterday evening. Both of them ran away on the appearance of the police.

Are you registered? If you are not you cannot vote. If you are registered and do not register on election day might just as well not be a voter.

The lectures at the Baptist church tonight will be by Rev. J. D. Murphy, D. D., of [illegible] Mind Mould and Character. Single tickets, 25 cents.

Reserved seats are now on sale at the Midland ticket office for the engagement of the Madison Square Theatre company in "Held by the Enemy" next Friday and Saturday evenings.

A launch is out for the accommodation of the employes of the Rock Island road while [illegible] in the new building which is now [illegible] by that road near the Denver and Rio Grande depot.

Rev. Wells Leed, father of Mrs. Dr. Kirkwood of this city, died at Guilford, Colorado, on Sunday evening in the 80th year of his age. For nearly two years he was a resident of Colorado college.

The annual meeting of the Colorado Springs Tennis Club will be held [illegible] at 455 North Cascade avenue. The meeting is called for the election of officers.

The [illegible] recitals at the Art Loan are very delightful and are highly appreciated. This is the last week of the Art Loan. Every night [illegible] Mr. Frank O. Wood will be the organist.

[illegible] is giving the Council of the Art Loan a [illegible] evening, November 21. Some of the best of the local talent for this will take part. The entertainment will be positively the last [illegible] exhibition.

Hon. H. H. Grafton was one of the Manitou people who wanted a dollar at the Athletic grounds yesterday. He [illegible] to all those who attended the rally at Manitou to-night as the speaking and parade will be fine.

The Musical Choral society has its first meeting for the season this evening at 7:30 o'clock and not 8 o'clock as Professor Hood of Denver will be present. Every one in Colorado Springs who [illegible] singing will find it a pleasure to attend.

Mr. A. P. Moon, of Haskell, has furnished us the following weather record for the week ending October 24. Highest temperature 82 on the 18th, lowest temperature 32 on the 23d; weekly mean temperature 44.97; prevailing direction of the wind, south.

Messrs. Moore & Clough, members of the contracting firm of Meehan, Clough & Moore, which did the excavating on the City sewers, have gone to Durango where they have a contract for constructing a large irrigating ditch. Mr. Meehan comes from the firm and will continue the work of making connections with the sewers.

The [illegible] election have decided that it will not be necessary to make [illegible] to have witnesses in registration books. There are two sections in the statutes referring to the matter, and it is [illegible] that by the second one it is not necessary to make oath in registering and that registration day immediately previous to the day of election.

Rev. [illegible] the Baptist church informed his people last Sunday that preparation for the [illegible] of a large chorus choir "Hosanna" would be added to the attractions of the evening services, at which the choir rests a half hour. It already seems strange that the church was [illegible] to the meeting [illegible] on Sunday evening. Visitors were always welcome, but [illegible] Sunday evening "Hosanna" [illegible].

Mechanics, Artisans, Investors, Tradesmen, Professional Men, Day Laborers.

If a desirable location is what you have been waiting for ever since the announcement made last spring that the Rock Island railroad had decided to build to Colorado Springs,

The Beautiful Tract of Land in which Roswell City is Located is almost at your Door. It is within twenty minutes drive of the finest portion of Colorado Springs, and is situated on the west side of the Monument river, the same side of the river as the lands of the Rock Island railroad, where the buildings of the railroad company are now in course of erection. The station of Roswell has been established at this point, the road here and station being within 400 feet of what is to be the principal business street of the city. The lands of the Rock Island railroad and those of the Denver and Rio Grande railroad extend for half a mile along the eastern border of the new city, and furnish excellent facilities for the establishment of manufactories and for shipment.

The location of this new city is on ground sloping gently to the east, rising gradually from the railroad track towards the mesa on the west, and furnishes most beautiful and finely protected building sites for the thriving city which is bound to spring up at once in that locality.

There is no doubt about it, that this is the best chance to make money on lots, that has ever been offered in this vicinity.

Prices are Very Low, Terms Easy, and Values will Doubtless Double or Treble in a Few Weeks.

Negotiations are about concluded with a large manufacturing plant, to locate in the new city, and many others are sure to follow on account of its superior facilities.

To meet the immediate demands for dwellings, the company will erect a score of houses and stores, which will be ready for occupancy within three weeks.

GO AND INVESTIGATE FOR YOURSELVES and we will guarantee that if you are looking for an investment or a home, you will not have to look any further.

As the close of the campaign draws near the prospect of a big republican victory grows brighter.
